BODY IDENTIFIED AS MATE IS SOUGHT

SECRETS IN TRUNK MURDER BARED

Woman Found by Expressmen
Proves to be Mrs. E. Leroy

HER HUSBAND STILL MISSING

Jailed Suspect Turns Out to be Wrong Man

DETROIT, Mich. — (By Associated Press.) — The woman whose mutilated body was shipped in a trunk from Detroit to New York has been positively identified by the Detroit police as Mrs. E. Leroy, formerly Miss Katherine Jackson, of Starkville, Miss. Police Inspector James McCarthy asserted Monday.

The next immediate development in the case, McCarthy said, may come from Chicago, where Patrolman Leo Trumbull of the local department, has gone to assist in identifying a man held there on suspicion that he may be the husband of the slain woman.

"Clothing found in the trunk with the body, has been positively identified by Patrolman Trumbull and his wife, as having belonged to Mrs. Leroy," the inspector said. Trumbull and his wife were intimately acquainted with the Leroy's.

A detective from the Detroit department has gone to New York to seek further clues in connection with the case. He may ask that the body of the woman be brought to Detroit.

SUSPECT RELEASED
CHICAGO. — (By United Press.) — Roy Miller, ex-flyer, was dismissed Monday as a possible suspect in the New York trunk murder mystery.

Patrolman Michael Trumbull of the Detroit police forces, who met Miller in jail here Monday, said there was no resemblance to Eugene Leroy, former occupant of the Detroit house from which the body of a nude woman was expressed to New York.

Police here, having lost their claim to an angle of the mystery expected to free Miller later Monday.

SUSPECT JAILED
CHICAGO. — (By United Press.) — Authorities here expected Monday to attempt identification of Roy Miller, 29, former army aviator, as "E. Leroy," suspected shipper of a trunk found in New York city, containing the nude body of a murdered woman.

Miller was arrested here Sunday by a police informant who declared Miller was also known as "E. Leroy" and that he was in Detroit about the time of the alleged murder.

Following questioning of Miller, Chicago authorities declared they doubted that he was connected with the trunk murder mystery. Miller told authorities that his wife formerly was Helen Lorrain Smith, daughter of a wealthy Wheeling, W. Va., coal operator. He said she would substantiate his story. He denied changes he had an "affinity" and that he and the alleged "affinity" visited Detroit previous to the date of the trunk murder.

TRACE MURDER CLUES
DETROIT. — Police Monday working on the theory that the woman whose mutilated body was shipped in New York in a trunk was known as Jackson, of Starkville, Miss., known as Mrs. Eugene Leroy, continued to gather evidence against "Leroy."

Identification of articles of clothing in the death trunk as that worn by the Leroy was made Sunday by Patrolman Leo Trumbull and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pfeiffer.

Patrolman Trumbull was in Chicago Monday with a member of the homicide squad of the local police department in an effort to identify Roy Miller arrested there Sunday as the man who passed here as "Eugene Leroy."

Mrs. Trumbull's story of her acquaintance with Mrs. Leroy here-out the story told by A. A. Tatum, Birmingham, Ala., that Leroy mistreated the Jackson woman.

MISTAKEN IN GIRL
WASHINGTON, Pa. — Police here Monday declared the body of the young woman found in a trunk in New York was not Miss Katherine Dan of Canonsburg. Suspicion that the murdered woman might be Miss Dan, who disappeared some time ago, was set aside when a letter from several days later the trunk was shipped, was received from her by relatives.

FEARS GIRL'S HUSBAND
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Allen Tatum, who walked into the police station here Saturday to tell the story of Katherine Jackson, southern girl whom he believes was the girl whose body was found in a trunk in New York, remained at the police station Monday out of fear for his life.

Tatum fears vengeance of "Leroy," the husband of the murdered girl, he said. Tatum described "Leroy" as "extremely jealous" and said he believed the murder was the result of a jealous passion.

MASKED MEN ROB BANK
CENTRAL FALLS, R. I. — Five masked men held up the cashier at the Union Credit Francaise Bank on Main-st., at the point of revolvers Monday and escaped in an automobile with a strong box containing $11,000.

"PITILESS" PROBE ASKED BY COX

Wants Campaign Investigators
On Job all the Time

DEMANDS WEEKLY REPORTS

Hard Sledding for Both Parties
Seen by Leaders

DAYTON, Ohio. — (By United Press.) — The Democratic nominees will demand that a list of all campaign expenditures, as well as contributions be submitted at least weekly to the Kenyon senatorial committee for investigation, Governor Cox said here Monday. Cox stated that he desires the committee to be reconvened as soon as possible and to continue in session all during the campaign.

Plans for this "pitiless" publicity of the big war chests of both parties will be discussed by the nominees Monday or Tuesday with Senator Pomerene, Ohio, one of the Democratic members of the committee, who, before the senate adjourned, succeeded in having the investigation extended to national campaigns.

Cox indicated that he intended to stress the investigation of the campaign expenditures and that he would demand an inquiry into state as well as national funds. It is apparent that the Democrats hope to make the Kenyon committee investigations a big feature of the campaign. With campaign costs on the same level as the cost of living, leaders admit that it may be hard sledding for both parties to secure the funds necessary to carry on an extensive battle as was waged in 1916.

The importance Cox attaches to campaign funds investigation is indicated by the fact that his conference with Pomerene is virtually the only one that he will allow to interfere with the writing of his acceptance speech.

NOTIFICATION PLANS
The scene of the Cox notification, it has been decided definitely, will be the county fair grounds here instead of Fraileigh, his home, about five miles from Dayton. Inadequate facilities at his home to handle a large crowd, caused Cox to agree reluctantly to the change.

A large temporary grand stand will be erected, which, with the pavilion will give a seating capacity of about 5,000. There is room for a large overflow crowd on the race track. Present plans are to have a parade of visiting delegations at 1 o'clock, followed by the notification ceremonies. Cox will entertain the notification and the Democratic national committee with a luncheon at his home.

DR. JONES DIES IN AUTOMOBILE

Popular Health Commissioner
Victim of Angina Pectoris

HAD MADE ENVIABLE RECORD

Funeral Services Will be Held
Wednesday Afternoon

Dr. A. L. Jones, for 14 years health commissioner of the city of Lima, died suddenly in his automobile at 9 o'clock Sunday night, while enroute from his cottage at Orchard Island to Lima. He had spent the week-end at the cottage with his family and was making the return trip with his aged father and one other occupant, a boy in the car, who was driving. When they reached a point five miles east of Jackson Center the doctor called to the driver to stop the car, expiring immediately following. The body was taken to a nearby farm-house and the car returned to bring other members of the family, after which Williams and Davis removed the body to Lima. The cause of death was pronounced by Dr. J. B. Poling, after making an examination Monday as angina pectoris.

Dr. Jones was appointed health commissioner in 1906 and has served in that capacity since that time with the exception of 14 months, commencing in July, 1918, which he spent as a captain in the medical corps at the convalescent center at Camp Dix, N. J. He was commissioned in March of 1919, but did not receive a call until the following July. His work at Camp Dix consisted entirely of building up soldiers who had been wounded in France, and in this capacity he made an enviable record for the 14 months he was in the service.

SERVED PUBLIC FAITHFULLY

During the fourteen years Dr. Jones served as health officer he devoted his time and energy unreservedly to saving for the public health, and according to his friends was a loser financially by spending his time at this work, which seemed to be his highest ambition.

The deceased was born in Manchester, England August 20, 1872 and came to this country where his parents when he was but a child, settling at Ft. Wayne, Ind., where his father still resides. He was graduated from the Ft. Wayne medical college in 1894 and immediately following his graduation came to Lima to commence the practice of medicine.

He was a member of the Elks, Knights Templar, Odd Fellows and the Lima club.

He leaves a wife and three daughters, Mildred, 19, Harriett, 12 and Margaret, 6, who reside at 1241 Lakewood-ave., his father, Lloyd Jones, three sisters, Mrs. G. Schell, Mrs. Belle McGowan, and Elizabeth Jones, Ft. Wayne, Ind., and a brother, Will Jones who resides in Montana.

Funeral services will be held at the residence Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Rev. Swanson of the First Congregational church of Raynham, officiating.

RESOLUTE LEADING FINAL RACE

American Sloop Three-Quarters of Mile Ahead of Shamrock

SANDY HOOK, N. J. — (By Associated Press.) — At 3 o'clock Monday, two hours and a half after the start of the fifth race of 1920, for the America's Cup, Resolute was leading Shamrock IV by about three quarters of a mile on a beat to the outer mark of a 30 mile windward and leeward course.

Altho they had actually covered nearly a dozen miles of a luffing match for possession of the wind—a battle of skippers that took the racing sloop far into the Jersey shore, the racers had covered less than half the first 15 mile leg.

With scarcely a breath of air waiting across the racing lane, the contest fast developed into a fight against the six hour time limit which expires at 6:30 p. m.

FAYETTEVILLE, W. Va. — William Bennett Jr., son of a former Fayette county judge, was hanged early Sunday morning by a mob, after having begun a life sentence for murder of his wife, to which he pleaded guilty.

BUSINESS BETTER

CLEVELAND. — (By Associated Press.) — There is nothing fundamentally wrong with business conditions, which continue to improve, and the propaganda of extreme pessimism which has been spreading during the past few months is ill timed and mischievous, according to the monthly business review of the Fourth Federal Reserve bank, made public.

With the passing of unusual conditions nothing is more natural than a return to a normal basis, the statement says, pointing out that to be a highly prosperous nation it is not necessary that the large profits and excessive earnings of the last five years, the war period, be maintained.

CHILD 'FOR SALE'

NEW YORK. — (United Press.) — "FOR SALE." Young widow will part with lovely 2 1/2-year-old girl, Irish parentage. $250 absolutely necessary as mother in poor health. Write Box 91, 2119 Third-ave.

That is the whole story. Katherine McNulty, a pretty, dark-haired 29-year-old mother said Monday when questioned about the advertisement inserted in papers here.

Many bids had been received for the curly-fair-haired Margaret, who played around the tiny, clean room at 2333 Second-ave. Brave at first, the little mother was loathe to give up her child when time for parting came and so far has refused all offers.

DROWNING, SAVED

CLEVELAND. — (By United Press.) — Arthur Miller, employed on the William G. Mahler estate here Monday, rescued two men from drowning after an hour's struggle in Lake Erie. Miller first saw the two men clinging to an overturned boat about a mile from shore.

Taking a rope and three life preservers, he struck out for the men. Just as he reached the boat, one of the men slipped into the water exhausted. Miller, an expert swimmer, and strapped a life belt about his waist. He then gave another belt to the other man and put one on himself. He tied the rope to both men, wound the other and around his own body and towed both safely to shore.

TURKS IN CRISIS

CONSTANTINOPLE. — (By Associated Press.) — Since the departure of Turkey's peace delegates for Paris with instructions to sign the treaty the means of ratification have been eagerly discussed in Constantinople.

Under the Turkish constitution the chamber of deputies must ratify treaties. That is impossible under the present circumstances, as a majority of the chamber is composed of Nationalists, many of whom are in Angora. There is no legal way for the Sultan to convolve another chamber.

SLAYER LYNCHED

FAYETTEVILLE, W. Va. — (By United Press.) — The mob spirit here had subsided Monday and authorities were seeking the identity of leaders of the band that lynched William Bennett Jr., common-law husband of his wife and unborn child.

The lynchers gained entrance to the jail after summoning the jailer on a pretext. Keys were taken from him and the prisoner carried several miles from town. The victim's body was found hanging to a tree.

LABOR CLASSIFIES CANDIDATES

ST. JOHNS, N. F. — Success of the wireless telephone was again demonstrated when passengers aboard the steamer Victoriana heard the British National Anthem sung by persons 2,180 miles distant. The voices of the singers were clearly audible.

The Victoriana has been in wireless telephone communication with Signal Hill here since last Thursday with few interruptions. These were the result of atmospheric conditions rather than the fault of the wireless telephone.

GUNS POSTED AS RIOTS CONTINUE

BELFAST. — (By United Press.) — Altho several clashes occurred during the night, resulting in the death of a constable and wounding of three Sinn Feiners, this city was comparatively quiet Monday. The constable was shot from a window by a sniper and died instantly. The Sinn Feiners were wounded in a street fight with Unionists.

Belfast Monday presented the appearance of an armed camp. Thousands of British soldiers patrolled the streets and guarded public buildings, while motor lorries and tanks were stationed at many points.

Breastworks of sand bags and hastily constructed iron barriers were everywhere on the outskirts of the town. A civilian ignored the challenge of a British sentry who ordered him to halt. Upon refusal, he was shot and taken to a hospital, where he was not expected to live.

Sunday passed quietly except for the murder of Police Sergeant Mulhern, who was shot by several masked men as he genuflected to the entrance to a Catholic church. This entrance fanned the flame of hatred of the factions, but military precautions prevented any concerted lighting. Disorders occurred in several neighboring towns during the night.

At Bangor and Newtownards, a number of saloons were looted and windows smashed. Similar incidents occurred at Lisburn.

Several funerals were held Sunday of men whose bodies had been kept in their own homes several days. Crowds followed the funeral corteges. Military authorities complained they were hampered by Ulsteries and Sinn Feiners who nominally were assisting in maintenance of order, but who had no hesitation about participating in a battle.

A disorderly element at the shipyards armed with iron rivets and known as the "Belfast Butcheries" is ready to seize any opportunity for disorder.

Police dispersed a large mob which attempted to set fire to a convent at Newtownards-rd. An armored car and machine guns were used for this purpose.

One of his daughters, after completing her education in Europe, was said to have gone on the concert stage.

SOVIET TRAP SET FOR ALLIES

Pretext for Return to Demand
For Recognition

EMBARRASSING TO FRANCE

Bolsheviks and Poles Continue
Fighting Despite Truce

PARIS. — (By Associated Press.) — The proposal by the Russian soviet government for a conference in London with all the allies, as represented in Sunday night's dispatches, will be the subject of an exchange of views between France and Great Britain. It is possible that Premier Lloyd-George and Millerand will meet during the present week for a discussion of the reply to be made to Moscow.

As viewed here, the soviet government has seized the allied demand for an armistice with Poland as a pretext for a return to the original soviet campaign for official recognition of the Moscow government and political circles in Paris regard the maneuver as a skillful one which has placed some of the allies, particularly France, in a delicate position.

France has not ceased to consider the soviet government as an irregular one, not supported by the free will of the people, and consequently has resisted all action with reference to Russia that might even remotely be considered as recognition. It is pointed out that Premier Lloyd-George spoke for all the allies, however, when he communicated with the soviet authorities, demanding that they stop the forward movement on the Polish frontier and asking them to arrange an armistice to be followed by a conference of delegates from all the countries bordering on Russia.

Thus it is now admitted for the first time in political circles here that France may be forced into a position where she will be brought to recognize the soviet but it is declared she will do so only after due guarantees are given that the Russian foreign debt will be paid.

CONTINUE FIGHTING

LONDON. — (By United Press.) — The allies will agree to the surrender of General Wrangel, anti-Bolshevik commander in southern Russia, as demanded by the Moscow government as a preliminary to peace conferences, to be held in London, it was understood here. The soviet government's agreement to the British government's agreement to the conference at London at which all allied nations would be represented for the purpose of settling the Russian-Polish war.

Bolshevik commanders in the field have already begun armistice negotiations with Polish military chiefs at several points along the fighting front, a Moscow wireless message said. A general conference of military chiefs to negotiate a formal armistice, will be held in a few days to be fixed by the soviet commanders.

FIGHTING CONTINUES

A message from Warsaw, declared that despite the armistice preliminaries, fighting was progressing. The Poles were said to have recaptured the city of Grodno from the reds after a stiff fight. Poles also captured several forts along the river Niemen. Many prisoners and a quantity of materials were taken. The red armies were said to have suffered heavy casualties, in an unsuccessful attempt to cross the Niemen, when they evacuated Grodno. The soviet armies were reported driven out of Rudnia and Chotyn-Kosin.

In allied circles here the belief prevailed that the entente had won the diplomatic battle with the Bolsheviks. The British armistice proposal was characterized as a statesman-like recognition of the necessity for real peace, despite the desire of Leon Trotsky and other Bolshevik fire eaters to occupy Warsaw and dictate a proletarian form of government for Poland. The armistice proposal was also declared to have been a recognition of the imperativeness of the resumption of Russian trade relations.

FRENCH ENTER DAMASCUS

PARIS. — (By United Press.) — French troops, under command of General Gouraud, entered Damascus, seat of Emir Faisal's government, on Sunday, it was learned Monday. A spirited battle occurred on the outskirts of the town, but later a native emissary was sent to the French commander to say there would be no further resistance to French occupation. Gouraud's troops entered and stationed themselves in the foreign quarter.

French troops had already occupied Aleppo and thus are in complete control of the railroad from Damascus to Cilicia. The foreign office announced that Emir Faisal had fled into the hills when the French troops approached. No attempt was made to capture him.

Emir Said, whose uncle was assassinated, was expected to be made king of Syria in Faisal's place. For some time, as a result of what the French considered treacherous acts on the part of Faisal.

WOMAN ESCAPES TURK FURY

Wife of Greek in U. S. After 6 Years' Horror

THREE CHILDREN MISSING

Unspeakeable Cruelties Inflicted On Christians in East

CANTON, O.—The war has ended many months ago and to many Americans is a closed incident but it only ended last week for Mrs. John Nicklos, wife of an interpreter at the United Steel Alloy Hospital, who has just reached here after six years life under the persecution of the Turk. Three sons, ranging in age from 12 to 18 years have not been found and the parents have almost given up hope of ever seeing them again.

Nicklos who had been unable to locate his wife and children since 1914 told the story of the cruelty of the Turks as he heard it from his wife's own lips. Mrs. Nicklos has been ill from the hardships endured and improper nourishments but is recovering since her arrival in the United States.

The husband came to America nearly twelve years ago and worked in Kansas City, St. Louis, Spokane and various parts of Alaska. At the end of four years he returned to Turkey, where although he was a Greek by birth he was speedily drafted into the Turkish army to fight against Italy. A few weeks after he was in invalided home from this campaign he was called to fight in the Balkan war. Leaving Turkey again he came to the United States and located in this city.

At the outbreak of hostilities the Greeks in Turkey were not molested, says Nicklos, although many Armenians were killed. As the oppression became worse they were forced to remain indoors from darkness until dawn, anyone who disobeyed being instantly shot down by guards. Armenian children were left in their homes to starve after their parents had been executed and no one was permitted to care for them. Later an order from the government made it possible for anyone so inclined to take as many children as they wanted into their homes and feed them.

Mrs. Nicklos, with many other Greek Christians, adopted an Armenian child. A week later the Turks came again and took not only the Armenian children but the Greek children as well. In that way the three sons of Nicklos were lost and have never been located.

The remaining Christians were scattered by government decree and moved constantly from place to place, mostly thru rough mountain country for 13 months. They were compelled to march from 18 to 24 hours, some days according to refugees and frequently were not given food for weeks at a time.

HUNDREDS STARVED
Hundreds died along the way from starvation, the others subsisting on food picked up by the way. Mrs. Nicklos ate grass until she was too weak to travel and was then helped along by the other victims.

At the end of the 13 months they found themselves again in the city from which they had started, four days journey from Constantinople. Here they were left to shift for themselves, penniless and without employment. Three months ago Mrs. Nicklos escaped from the country and started for America. Prolonged stops at Trieste, Havre, and New York consumed the summer so that it was only a few days ago, that she reached her husband's home here.

Nicklos is a fluent linguist, speaking eight languages and is employed at the plant hospital as interpreter and first aid man, where he assists in caring for the men injured about the plant.

MRS. LENA BROSCHE IS TAKEN BY DEATH

HEAT-STROKE: HOW TO RECOGNIZE AND TREAT IT

By the U. S. Public Health Service

The term, heat-stroke is now used to denote the various manifestations which sometimes follow exposure to intense solar or artificial heat. Those who are employed in hot or close apartments where the air is impure as in mines and in fire-room and steamers are particularly liable to be affected by the heat-stroke.

Heat-stroke does not always develop abruptly, nor does it generally occur at the beginning of the heated term, but usually after the hot weather has persisted for two or three days.

There are certain symptoms which indicate the approach of this affection and should be recognized as a warning. An irritability and depression, headache, congestion of the eyes, flushing of the face, dryness of the skin and sometimes nausea.

Unless the person affected seeks relief, the symptoms just enumerated may be followed by more serious ones, as delirium, convulsions and unconsciousness.

In this connection the temperature of the body has been known to rise to 108 degrees to 110 degrees Fahrenheit—normal temperature being 98.6 degrees.

The pupils are generally dilated, although sometimes contracted.

The pulse at first is strong and rapid but subsequently becomes weak.

Death may occur suddenly in consequence of the action of the high temperature upon the nerve centers, or at a later period as the result of exhaustion.

A large percentage of those who recover from the immediate effect of heat-stroke subsequently suffer from some temporary or permanent affection, of the nervous system.

There are two important indications for treatment; reduction of temperature and the use of stimulants.

The use of cold is regarded as the best method of meeting the first indication, and the meeting of the application depends upon the facilities at hand.

The patient should be removed to a cooler spot if possible, or at least where shade can be secured, or if a person succumbs in a place where the ventilation is defective, in addition to the heat, he should be carried into the fresh air. The treatment should be begun at once. Efforts are often made to take the patient home, which may involve considerable time and cause still further exhaustion.

The clothing about the neck and body must either be removed or loosened. Cold is particularly indicated in cases where the body is greatly heated and delirium and convulsive movements are present.

UNDER ICE OR COLD WATER
This means of reducing the temperature may be applied by cracked ice about the head and spine, or by cold water by means of a sponge, sprinkling pot, or hose, the pressure being carefully regulated. However, a good plan is to remove the clothing and sponge the body with cold water at frequent intervals.

In extreme cases it may be necessary to wrap the patient in sheets wet with cold water. The sheets are to be kept wet by frequently pouring water over them while on the body until consciousness returns or there is evidence of marked fall of temperature.

After the cold has been discontinued, should serious symptoms such as unconsciousness or a return of the previous high temperature occur, the cold applications should be repeated.

POLAND MAY BE ELECTION ISSUE

Both Parties Get Data Upon
Soviet Gains

WASHINGTON, (By United Press)—Poland threatens to become an issue in the presidential campaign.

Republican and Democratic sources, it was learned today, have been busy in Washington ever since the beginning of the Bolshevik drive in Poland, gathering material to be used as arguments for and against the adoption of the league of nations when the campaign gets under way.

Both have the same data gleaned from state department and embassy information but the two parties will interpret it in different ways.

Republicans say that if the United States enters the league of nations it will be called upon to send men and money into just such wars as occurred between the soviets and Poland.

But to this Democrats say that with America in the league the Polish-Bolshevik war would not have occurred.

With the assurance of a strong league behind her, Poland, the democrats say, would not have felt called upon to take up arms against the Bolsheviks.

FRUIT ON BOTTOM OF SEA TWO YEARS ARRIVES HERE

Two cans of fruit, one of peach preserve and the other, blackberries, both of which were rescued by the U. S. Government from the bottom of an Australian vessel sunk during the war two years ago, were received Monday by Mrs. Mary L. Hammer, 113 1-2 E. North-st. The ship was sunk in France with supplies for overseas soldiers when it was destroyed.

The fruit, despite the fact that it laid for months at the bottom of the ocean, was little affected by the long salt water "treatment." The cans were sent to Mrs. Hammer by her niece, Mrs. L. K. Williams, connected with the U. S. geological bureau, Department of the Interior, Washington.

Mrs. Williams in a letter to her aunt, stated that she wished her to see the condition of the fruit after so many months, and also wrote that many members of her department had laid in their winter supply of the fruit which is being sold by the U. S. government.

CANADIAN PULP IS BEING SENT TO SPAIN

QUEBEC, Que.—A new market for Canadian pulp was developed here by the visit recently of August Ramoneda of Spain. Ramoneda represents 25 of Spain's largest paper mills and had instructions to place orders for as much Canadian pulp as was available. He secured, however, he stated only one-tenth of the amount he would like to have purchased.

The Canadian Government Steamship Maple Court has just sailed for Spain with the first cargo of Canadian pulp for Mr. Ramoneda's clients, who consume about 65,000 tons of pulp a year.

Ramoneda will leave shortly for his home in Barcelona and while there he will endeavor to interest Spanish merchants in shipping their products, such as oils, nuts and fruits to Canada.

LORAIN MAYOR OWES CITY $57, REPORT SAYS

COLUMBUS.—Mayor A. J. Horn, Lorain, owes the city $57.25 according to the report of State Examiner D. O. Heister made to State Auditor Donahay Monday. The amount is for expenses on a trip to Philadelphia in 1915 to attend a meeting of the League to Enforce Peace. The examiner holds that the city should not have paid for the trip. The report lists a number of other illegal findings and expenditures of city officials but all were for small sums.

JACK JOHNSON TO STAY IN JAIL

Court Denies Black Pugilist's Application For Bail

CHICAGO.—(United Press)—Jack Johnson's last swing in his sparring for freedom was blocked here Monday.

The negro pugilist's application to federal judge Alschuler for bail was turned down on the ground that the matter should have gone before Judge Carpenter, now in a hospital here. Carpenter originally sentenced Johnson for violation of the Mann act.

Thomas Carey, millionaire brick maker, appeared with Johnson's attorneys in the first effort to free the negro. Carey's party expected to visit Judge Carpenter's hospital to see if the place should not stand as a trip to the court room. At the least they hoped to get his permission to have Judge Alschuler hear the application. Meanwhile Johnson remained in the county jail at Joliet, Ill.

The black belt of Chicago, highly excited at the prospect of their hero's return, seethed with preparations for his reception. It was expected there that Johnson will be at liberty shortly.

CLOCK IS WON BY WALTERS

Moose Secretary Loses Watch, is Voted Homeliest Picnicker

Sunday was lucky day for Harry Walters, secretary of the local lodge of Moose.

Walters took his family to the Moose picnic at McCullough's park. He entered the contest for the "homeliest man present." A beautiful clock was to be first prize. Walters had his watch stolen some time ago.

The judges declared him the winner of the event.

Now Walters has no excuse to offer if he's late to work. He got the clock.

A large number of Moose members and their family were present at the outing. It was pronounced a huge success. Ten entries in the baby contest forced the judges to call it a tie and a $10 prize was divided, a dollar going to each baby.

Reverend Clarence Mitchell addressed the picnicers on the work of the Moose Lodge.

ILLINOIS MINERS ARE ALL OUT

Governor Lowden Blames Car-
Shortage for Trouble

CHICAGO.—(By United Press)—With a one hundred percent tie-up of Illinois mines Monday anticipated, Illinois coal operators were reported preparing an appeal to President Wilson for re-establishment of the federal bituminous coal commission, with resultant re-opening of the entire coal question.

Operators declared their belief an increased wage for day workers would be necessary before the strike could be ended.

Federal conciliations Monday prepared to open hearings for the strike. They have prepared to question Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners and other union officials.

Farrington declared he would issue a statement Monday replying to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, who announced Saturday he would call a strike of all bituminous coal workers if increases were allowed in the Illinois field.

With the strike 90 per cent effective in Illinois Saturday, operators and union leaders early Monday anticipated every mine in the state would be closed. The day laborers demand an increase of $2 a day.

Governor Frank O. Lowden in an official statement appealed to the men to return to work and to the operators to accept their demands. He declared their method of securing their aims wrong, and said it would defeat the principle of collective bargaining. He blamed the car shortage as primarily responsible.

CHINA'S POOR STARVES AS RICE IS EXPORTED

SHANGHAI.—Profiteering has hit the uncounted millions of China's poor, and famine threatens.

There is a rice shortage here that has created a condition which may be mildly described as acute. It is really to be described only in the superlative.

Daily the Settlement's police forces receive word of the discovery of dead bodies of men, women and children, evident victims of starvation, being found by roadsides where they have been left because of families too stricken by poverty to pay for proper burial and trusting to the humanity of the foreign population to conduct the accustomed rites.

Excessive export of rice to Japan is blamed by the Chinese for the hunger of the people in this country. Whether this is true or whether a "corner" exists is what the authorities are attempting to discover.

Quotations on rice rose, a few days ago, to the unprecedented height of 11 1/2 a picul, approximately 133 pounds. As a result the Chinese authorities in the Native City of Shanghai have opened two rice exchanges where the food, which is the chief sustenance of the native population, is being sold for $7 a picul.

LIQUOR RELEASED

LEXINGTON, Ky.—(By Associated Press).—Prohibition Director James H. Combs telegraphed the Ohio prohibition director Monday morning that the quarter of a million dollars worth of whiskey seized at Lang, Ohio, last week in transit to Montreal, Canada, was shipped under a regularly issued permit of April 15, 1920. The liquor will be released and allowed to go on to Montreal.

Because of errors in a dispatch sent out from Toledo it was not possible to locate any such permit, as the press dispatch gave the name of the distiller as W. E. Haines and the location Glen Green, Ky., whereas the correct name of the distiller is W. A. Gaines and Company and the location Glen's Creek, Ky.

COLUMBUS.—Taking of testimony in the suit filed by the attorney general of Ohio and Pennsylvania, to prevent enforcement of the Stephens law, preventing exportation of natural gas from West Virginia, will be concluded October 1, Attorney General Price said, Monday.

"We expect the case to be completely wound up by that time," he said. Hearing is to be resumed September 13, at Pittsburgh.

NORWOOD ALL RIGHT

COLUMBUS.—Administrative affairs and finances of Norwood, Ohio, are in "excellent condition" according to the report of State Examiner Frank E. Thomas, made to State Auditor Donahay Monday.

Only a few illegal findings are reported by the examiner, among them one against E. E. Flake, former assistant clerk of council for $508. The examiner says Flake was paid this amount in 1918, although he was not legally elected as assistant clerk by the council.

Four-Figure Fur Prices

But They Sell in July Like
Hot Cakes in January

NEW YORK.—Winter furs are selling in July like hot cakes in January. The sales force which handles sheer organdies and voiles is having a three week's vacation while the poor merchants whose lot is cast in the Hudson seal and ermine aloof mop bedewed brows as they shove North Pole garb at Gotham maid and matron.

There was a not long ago day when Milady New York would have emerged from the shop into the torrid zone of Fifth Avenue or Broadway all swaddled in her new fur purchase, but this year fur salesmen say that women are storing their premature-purchased garments in vaults where neither dust nor moth can corrupt, nor thieves break in and steal.

Yester-year's Hudson seal dolman that went for a song and 700 bucks and 90 cents is now an even $1000. Whether it be a seal from Greenland's icy mountain or mongooosa from India's coral strand, four figures and mayhap more are required to express its value.

LOVELY AND VARIED

But, to give even a further list due and we waster much will be due him for sometime, never have furs been lovelier and more varied.

Even such accessories as linings or fasteners surpass in fabric and hue those of any former year. The past year's craze for the oriental is persisting into the next, and linings are Dardenella or Carmen-like in gorgeousness. Metal brocades, gold and silver embroideries, heavy satin ribbons, and metallic laces in Algerian, blue, Chinese red or Cleopatra green, line all winter furs from seal to leopard.

CAPES CONTINUE GOOD

Bone fide coats with fitted sleeves are still unknown in the fur realm. The commodity cut is that of the full cape flaring from the shoulder unbelted, and with Mandarin sleeves. The dolman coat, cut straight from shoulder to hem and unbelted, is another prime favorite. The modish long-waisted effect was shown at a fur revue by a coat of mole with fringed extending well below the hips, from which hung a skirt of two pleated flounces.

SQUIRREL AND MOLE

Many big, wrappy dolmans of gray squirrel or mole are shown. These have long, straight back panels bloused a la Russian at the waist. Back and sleeve are cut into a flaring cape effect flaring unbelted from cuff to hem.

The most expensive wrap upon display—so expensive that the exhibitor would not name his price—was of tiny ermine skins arranged so as to form a huge spider web in front and back. The cape was barrel-shaped, the increased width of the body being effected by a flaring cuff of ermine web.

Hudson seal coats of 48-inch length remain the good old standby. Contrasting bands of squirrel, Canadian, martin, or Australian opposum are used lavishly with seal.

SUGAR CANE MAY
DISPLACE GAS

"Natalite" Used in South Africa
for Motor Fuel.

IN USE FOR TWO YEARS

New Fluid is Intoxicant But a Poison.

CAPE TOWN—In its search for an alternative motor fuel to petrol the world has the demonstrated commercial success of "Natalite" to guide it in the right direction. "Natalite" (the name denotes its birthplace), is a by-product of the Natal sugar industry—which, incidentally, has been able to supply the households of South Africa with unlimited quantities of sugar throughout the war period at 5d. per pound, and is now only raising its price to 6d. It is a volatile spirit, obtained chiefly by distillation of the crushed sugar cane after the sugar mills have finished robbing it of its sweet content; and it has been on the market as a motor fuel since the spring of 1918, when it rescued the motorists of Natal from a petrol famine.

IS NOT SECRET
The process has really nothing secret or remarkable about it. Much the same sort of power alcohol can be obtained from any vegetable growth. Maize stalks, for instance, are suggested as another promising raw material. But what makes "Natalite" especially interesting is the fact that it has behind it the accumulated experience of two years' practical use. Improvements have been made which, if they have not yet resulted in the perfect substitute for petrol, certainly point the way to the production of an efficient motor fuel on a very large scale at a price which certainly ought to be considerably lower than the price of petrol.

NEED DENATURANT

All along the greatest concern of the industry has been the discovery of a powerful denaturant that is both cheap and in good supply. There are people with depraved tastes to whom any form of alcohol is acceptable. It whiskey is 12s. 6d. a bottle and at the same time difficult to get, they will turn gladly to anything that offers them an easier and cheaper way of achieving oblivion. Obviously it becomes impossible for the excise authorities to allow the motor industry to flood the markets with a cheap method of getting drunk at let us say, 2s. a gallon. It is necessary to ensure that before motor spirit is sold to the public it shall be made unpalatable.

In recent months a new denaturant has been discovered that simplifies matters considerably. This is a petroleum product, Simonsen oil, so efficacious that its presence in industrial alcohol is guaranteed to generate a 3,000 horsepower revulsion of feeling in any person foolish enough to drink it.

IS A POISON

In the last resort there is always, of course, the heroic course of labeling the stuff for such as it really is—"poison"—first adding a sufficient quantity of virulent poison to cause instantaneous death and selling it openly as "poison," hideously re-labeled, leaving fools who are still foolish enough to drink any sort of firewater, so long as it has got enough "bite" to bear the consequences of their folly.

PERMANENT U. S.
BONDS ARRIVE

Banks Exchanging Permanent
Ones for Temporary Issues

The banks of Lima are now busily engaged in exchanging temporary liberty bonds for permanent ones. The first, second and third issues are permanent ones, by order of the federal government. The third issue has been exchangeable for some time and most of those in the county have been exchanged for bonds of a permanent character. The first and second issues have just been ordered in by the government and the local banks are caring for their customers in the work.

When the bonds were issued they had four coupons attached to them and arrangements were made whereby these were to be transferred for permanent coupon bonds as soon as the coupons were used up. To make this change, all that is necessary is for the holder to take his bonds to the bank and have the banker send them to headquarters.

The bank will give the owner a receipt, which upon presentation at his bank will give him the permanent bonds. It requires about a week to accomplish these changes and those who do not look after the conversion of bonds now will not be able to receive their dividend when it becomes due, as there will be no coupon to cash.

AN OLD, OLD STORY ABOUT "THE BEST LAID PLANS OF MICE AND MEN"

NEW YORK.—If the best laid plans of mice and men "aft gang agley," the carefully contrived designs of the murderer are practically certain to contain some slip—a tiny flaw, a forgotten handkerchief, mark on clothing, or other clue to the crime.

In the proud State of Virginia some years ago Henry Clay Beattie, very tired of his wife owing to his infatuation for a young woman, Beulah Binford, took Mrs. Beattie out automobile one evening. He returned with her dead body, his own clothing blood-soaked. Highwaymen had held him up and shot his wife, according to his story of the occurrence. But Henry Clay's cousin was able to say that he had procured the previous work for the other's convenience, a shotgun and bullets.

Beattie was finally executed for first degree murder. Dr. Walter Keene Wilkins, this time last year, on a foundation of circumstantial evidence, was tried and convicted of the murder of his wife. He told a story of burglars at his Long Beach home who struck him, beat Mrs. Julia Wilkins to death, flung prints on a piece of pipe, bits of newspaper clinging to that metal and other bits of paper dovetailing into the first were found carefully stowed away under a mattress. These were part of the evidence that caused Wilkins' arrest. After the "burglary" that resulted in his wife's death Wilkins ran away, but came back after the verdict, while waiting in jail for the day of his enforced death he hanged himself.

I was told not long ago that before his suicide Wilkins confessed his guilt. The latest exhibition of a delinquent husband essaying murder, while offering the "burglary" theory to the authorities to explain his crime, is that of Lieutenant Carl Wanderer, of Chicago, who finally confessed to the killing of his wife, soon to be a mother.

Wanderer, so present dispatches say, is in love with a sixteen-year-old girl, and this "love," possibly, may be the incentive that led the former war hero to commit his crime. Wanderer and Beattie killed for love of women other than their lawful wives. Wilkins killed to gain possession of Mrs. Wilkins' money.

But does crime always come to light? Positive answer comes from a woman district attorney, who daily experience in dealing with criminals has led her to form certain conclusions. This is Miss Helen P. McCormick, who is assistant to the district attorney of Kings County, New York.

Miss McCormick has youth and enthusiasm. Her work is characterized by an optimism and keen insight into character. The idea of being a slave to theories she is able to remodel them to work for her. "No matter how astute the criminal," she said, "there is usually some contingency that he cannot foresee or overlook, and it is that which brings his undoing."

"Do criminals return to the scene of their crime? Maybe not to the actual scene, but to their old haunts, emphatically yes!"

"It is a psychological fact that their former environments, or perhaps some spot connected remotely or otherwise with the crime, holds a certain fascination for them which they are unable to resist, and succumbing, leave themselves liable to detection."

"Criminals are like bad pennies—they always turn up."

"Do criminals leave some clue behind?"

"Yes—in almost every case, and whatever the nature of the clue may be, whether a woman's side comb, the laundry mark on some piece of wearing apparel, finger prints on window sill or door, or what not—there will be something that will afford the police some information to start on."

"Not long ago, in Brooklyn, a woman and her daughter were killed by an automobile. The detective found several pieces of broken glass at the scene of the accident and, piecing them together, found them to be part of a broken headlight of the machine. They also found the broken section of the crank of a certain make of car, and with this to work upon visited garages until they located the car they wanted."

"There is always a clue, just how much of a clue depends on the investigators. It is surely there."

"There was the Florence Burns-Walter Brooks case. A broken side-comb was our clue. The woman was brought to trial but acquitted."

"I believe many criminals give themselves away."

"Arson cases always seem to draw firebugs back to the scene of the crime. I do not believe they return in other cases—at least not to the actual scene of the deed."

"But there is a feature the firebugs neglect, it seems to me, in trying to set fire to things unsuccessfully. Many men practising arson spread oakum about the place because it burns slowly. But instead of opening a window to create a draft so that the fire will succeed, they leave it hinged shut up tight. They feel that it would be a good thing to go back and see why the place hasn't burned up. Then they are caught."

"It is the exception to the rule when a murderer, or the man who commits a serious crime, escapes final detection."

15 VIOLATORS ARE FINED MONDAY

Police Make Raid on Autoists Not
Conforming With Laws

All previous records were shattered in criminal court Monday morning when fifteen traffic violators were arraigned, pleaded guilty, and were assessed fines aggregating $65 by Judge Emmett Jackson.

It was brought out in Monday's session of court that cars equipped with one center headlight must have another added before they can be driven here.

The law calls for two headlights, said Judge Jackson, "and any model or car equipped with only one must be changed to comply with this provision before they can be driven in Lima."

A. Simmons, 38, merchant, offered damaging testimony against Lima's first thoroughfare. "They must have been far out while driving along Main-st," he said, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without lights.

Other car drivers who violated city ordinances were fined as follows, after pleading guilty to the charges against them: W. M. Gorman, 22, 929 Brice-ave, speeding, $10; Leonidas Granger, 38, 439 McFaren-ave, no headlights, $5; H. Robinson, 19, 702 S. McDonald, only one headlight, $5; A. N. Shiflet, 34, 1258 Circular-st, no tail light, $5; Thomas Day, 39, boiler maker, 749 Richie-ave, only one headlight, $5; Ray Baker, 25, Ada, only one headlight, $5; J. O. Montague, 42, Lima, R. No. 7, farmer, parking within ten feet of fire plug, $1; Don Baker, 18, 848 W. Spring-st, no lights $1; L. C. Matson, 28, 722 Center-st, laundryman, only one headlight; J. A. Kirby-st, parking on wrong side of street; Curtis E. Consparger 30, Lima, civil engineer, parking on wrong side of street.

John Johnson, 18, farmer, Harrod, charged with driving a car without tail light failed to appear in court and forfeited bond of $10.

MANY TO ATTEND
NOTIFICATION

Allen-co Democrats Will Visit
Dayton July 30 and August 7

Numerous Allen-co Democrats are arranging to visit Dayton on Friday of this week, when the citizens of the Gem City will stage a monster demonstration in honor of the homecoming of Governor James M. Cox, following his nomination as the Democratic candidate for President.

President L. Earl Ludwig of the Cox-Roosevelt club stated Monday that it is likely a large contingent will go from this city. However, the greatest interest will center in the notification ceremonies, to be held at the Montgomery-co fair grounds, Dayton, when Governor Cox will be officially informed of his nomination and when he will deliver his speech of acceptance. Governor Cox is now working on his speech, which is expected to be a clear exposition of his position on questions of moment in the campaign now opened. The official notification will take place on Saturday, August 7.

Mr. Ludwig stated Monday that an official call will be issued to the members of the club for as many of them as possible to arrange to attend the notification meeting. The state convention, to be held in Columbus, the date to be decided upon finally tomorrow, is also expected to attract a large number from Lima and Allen-co.

The delegates chosen from Allen-co to attend the state convention are: Fred C. Becker, T. M. Berry, M. C. Crossley, F. W. Durbin, W. J. Galvin, C. W. Herbst, Kent W. Hughes, Wm. Klingler, John F. Lindeman, E. W. Mosier and L. Neville.

COAL AND SUGAR
SITUATION

Welty to Address Kiwanis on Economic Questions

L. F. Welty, member congress, is to be the speaker at the luncheon meeting of Kiwanis, Tuesday, on an economic subject, "Coal and Sugar Situation." L. E. Appert, E. E. Ewerhart and E. J. Elliott are the members of the committee in charge. The silent boosters for the week are E. J. Pierce and A. W. Cantwell.

The second ball game of the series between the Kiwanis and Rotary teams will be staged Thursday afternoon at Murphy-st park. The winner of the season's honors is required to take three out of five contests. The Kiwanis won the first and Jim Morton feels that there is no necessity for arranging more than three games.

However, the Rotary team boosters are not agreed and feel that at least three more will be necessary. Rotary is planning great faith in its ability to "show 'em up" in succeeding diamond contests. In any event, there's sure to be gone plenty when these forces meet next Thursday. The police and fire departments have promised to keep hands off.

EXTINGUISH BIG BLAZE WITH TALCUM POWDER

CINCINNATI.—By emptying eighty-five-pound sacks of talcum powder into a 5,000 gallon storage tank, local firemen smothered blazing naphthalene at the plant of the Chatfield Manufacturing Company. The novel method extinguished an $18,000 fire which is thought to have been due to heat from a couple of large naphthalene stills setting ablaze, fumes in a brick building used in making moth balls.

The company had stored the talcum powder for use in case of fire.

THE CAUSE

We hear much these days about money being close and building operations retarded through difficulty in borrowing money.

To a large extent, July of this year is like July of other years in the matter of loans upon real estate, because at this time interest is paid upon millions of dollars deposited in Lima financial institutions which must take precedence over the making of new loans.

The point of difference is that now, more than ever in Lima's history, many persons are tempted by glittering promises of stocks and securities warranted to bring wonderful returns. No doubt some of these purchases are good, but many more will prove disappointing.

Your largest financial interest is in the prosperity of the community in which you live. Prosperous business at home will pay you the largest dividends.

Keep your money in Lima financial institutions. They will pay you a good rate of interest, and you know the principal is safe; you will then have a part in building up the City, your money being used to assist home owners and home industries.

The Allen County Savings and Loan Company in the Savings Building, Corner Market and Elizabeth Streets, pays five per cent interest on deposits, and invites you to open an account.

VAN WERT—W. G. Teeple, cashier of the Wren bank when checks far in excess of their balance were allowed to be paid to the La Salle Phonograph company of Chicago, took advantage of his "privilege" and refused to answer a number of questions put to him when his deposition was taken. The amount at stake may far exceed $55,000 which has been lost by four stock holders of the bank in an effort to make good the loss. These four men were heavily interested in the phonograph concern.

Mrs. Lillian Burt is supervisor of the social protective section. Dr. Henry B. Goddard of the Ohio Bureau of Juvenile Research, will speak on "The Relation of Low Mental Level to Prostitution." Mrs. Burt, Dr. A. W. Freeman, state commissioner of health, Chauncey D. Pichel, municipal court prosecutor, Cincinnati; Dr. R. G. The Yanks May Have Ruth But They Sure are Getting Awful Ruthless in the Way They Treat Opposition Pitchers.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD CHANGE

SUNDAY'S HERO—Babe Ruth. He not only hit his 35th homer, and the Yankees beat the Red Sox, but made a wonderful one-handed catch of Schang's would-be double play.

Cleveland outpitched Williams and assisted by Speaker's homer scored a win over the White Sox 7 to 2.

Almquist, with two singles, a double and a triple, out of five times at bat, led the Detroit hitters in their 21 to 8 victory over the Browns.

"Big Fred" Toney let the Reds down with eight scattered hits while his team was taking the rubber of the series 5 to 2.

Ponder pitched the Pirates to their fourth win in the last five encounters with the Robins. Score 5 to 4.

Merkle's batting featured the Cubs' defeat of Philadelphia 5 to 2.

Powell's single in the ninth with the bases crowded and two down, gave the Braves a 3 to 2 win over St. Louis.

Shank's batting spurred the Senators on to a rally and they downed the Mackmen 4 to 3.

RUTH MONOPOLIZES LIMELIGHT IN BIG LEAGUE BALL

BY JOE BERNSTEIN

BABE RUTH continues to grab off all the honors in the big leagues with his four base smashes coming so regular now that they're getting to almost be a common occurrence.

His thirty fifth was registered in Sunday's game with the Boston Red Sox off Hoyt, and makes about eight circuits that the king of swatmen cleaned off the Boston outfit since he set out to break the world's record.

He helped the Yankees to win over the Red Sox but he was unable to force his team back into that place so sought for by the team in the big leagues. The New York victory over the Sox only kept them from falling back any farther.

The Indians carried a horseshoe in their batbags yesterday, when they were able to swat Claude Williams hard enough to send him to the showers weeping over his fifth straight defeat. Errors, and poor support for Williams helped to make the score decisive against Chicago.

They still hold about a half game lead on the New York outfit, that will take some terrific playing to increase. The Yanks and their sluggers are liable to surpass that mark easily.

It's a real affair only the American league race, for Chicago is a good half dozen games behind either of the contenders for first, and seems to be slipping all the time.

The National league is different, however. Brooklyn has a pretty nice lead on the Reds at present, but the league as a whole presents such strong teams that anything might happen before the season is over.

The Reds lost yesterday to the Giants in the final game of the series, allowing the New Yorkers to take the majority of the games.

HOW FAR WILL BABE RUTH GO?

Dopesters are beginning to get three games, or, in plain figures, he should have scored more home runs coming to him before the end of the season.

Of course it's a big number and it looks almost impossible, but if Ruth keeps hitting like this, he's scheduled to start the season with four base hits he'll get.

The season is pretty well along in the second half of its duration, and the swat king has registered his thirty-fifth clout. To be exact, in games played he has smashed out 35 circuits. There remains to be played this year, about sixty games.

At that rate, according to the law of averages he is scheduled to get a four bagger at least once in every three games.

Looks like Ruth has everything in his favor.

MCGRAW SURPRISED AT REDS

Old John McGraw, the famous manager of the New York Giants, is all surprised at the way the Reds are playing the game this year, he declares in a statement to a Cincinnati paper.

But almost in the same breath he is reported to have said that the champs will win the pennant, unless he beats them himself.

Yet he qualifies all that he says by adding that the lack of punch shown this year by Moran's outfit may be due to the championship temper.

ment. Think they've got the flag clinched and stuff like that.

He says that the dash and spirit of the Reds as exhibited last year is missing this year, and he declares that it surprised him.

"The fault cannot all lie with the pitchers," he said, "the Reds have been getting pretty fair work in the box. I think it is the championship temperament with which I have had some experience myself."

"But I think the Reds will win out if they get together and play the ball as they are capable."

Trade Reuther? NO CHANCE!

CINCINNATI.—"We wouldn't trade Reuther for the whole Philadelphia team," said Aggie Herrmann, president of the Reds Monday in denying a New York report that the Reds had offered Walter Reuther and Sam Crane to the Phillies in exchange for Leo Meadows and DeWitt Lebourveau.

Members of the navy racing crew, jubilant over the victory in the annual regatta at Worcester on Saturday, arrived Sunday night and were the heroes among the athletes aboard the Frederick. The eight included football stars—Clyde King, tackle and Eddie Graves, star end.

The arrangements have been made for the athletes to work out while on the trip across. Moving machines were installed on deck for the crew, a ring laid out for boxers and general mates placed for wrestlers.

The vessel gave the appearance of a gymnasium. Coaches planned to put the whole squad thru a series of setting up exercises and deck runs. There will be no lack for entertainment of the men while on the trip.

Several cases of the latest phonograph records were put on board shortly before the Frederick sailed.

Doxies of piano rolls and many movie films were provided. Boxing and wrestling bouts will also be staged for the entertainment of the men aboard.

Commander C. B. Mayne, in charge of the squadron, received a message from Admiral Rodman before sailing, conveying the best wishes of the Pacific fleet for the success of the men.

THRILLING FINISH OF THIRD RACE FOR THE AMERICA'S CUP

ERRORLESS FIELDING HOLDS FINDLAY TO THREE RUNS AS INDEPENDENTS WIN

EXCELLENT support for Lima's new hurler, brought the Independents a victory over their old rivals, Findlay, Sunday after the visitors had tried about three different combinations on the diamond without being able to penetrate the Lima fence.

Lima won 5 to 3.

With Blauvelt, the new hurler who Bernie Mulloran has engaged to work for the home team unable to control the ball as perfectly as might be desired, the visitors were able to find it for six safe singles, all of which were used up in scoring their three counts.

Other times when they connected with the pill, the fast work of the Independents in the field, held them to no more counts.

Cappy Wessels, old standby, was back on the field as the official arbiter, calling decisions with old time precision. However, Wessels allowed a bad one to slip by him when in the seventh, the visitors distorted their batting order. The official scorer called Wessels' attention to the illegal procedure, and a discussion ensued on the field. Cappy, however, allowed Rechan who had batted out of his turn to remain on first on a fielder's choice. The rules declare that an out should be called when a batter bats out of turn.

Wessels, explained after the game that he "thought it best to let it go."

Despite the little mix up, however, the game easily proved the home team the stronger. Not an error was charged up against an Independent out of the thirty two chances to handle the ball in the nine innings. Although able to glean only five hits, the Limas bunched them sufficiently to hit five winning runs, aided by a few errors.

Joey Egan did a lot towards making the Findlay manager Jerk Zail, the other man in show frame.

When he eluded out a three bagger in the first inning that scored Castello who had been given a free pass to first. Marty Non's single scored the other run made in that frame.

The Findlays tried to stage a comeback in the eighth but failed to make it count for enough to win. With two on Lathers, left fielder smashed a two bagger out to the right field fence, scoring both men who were on base.

Almost continual substituting of players on the part of the Findlay management made the team look almost like a new outfit by the time the game was over. Twelve men were used by them in the contest and on player was changed from second base to catcher. But their changes failed to bring them anything with one exception. Henry, who replaced Bain in the box, allowed but three hits in the seven innings that he pitched.

Joey Egan was the hero of the game. He was in the limelight all of the time, gathering a triple and a single from his trips to the plate, stealing third and home in one inning, scoring two of the Lima runs, making three putouts in the field and being credited with an assist from deep right to the plate, that nailed a man at home.

Fast fielding by Jack Mallow made a double possible in the fifth, catching Aleach at second and Henry at first. The Non brothers registered another in the next inning when a Marty stomped a hot grounder and tagged Koolmeyer between first and second and pulled Drake at that.

PEEK-A-BOO VESTEE FOR SUIT OR FROCK

BY ELOISE

The vestee which was one of the most important dress accessories during the spring before last is again coming to the fore to take a prominent place in all summer wardrobes. Many of the newer frocks are featuring vests and flirts of organdy, lace or georgette. It is hard to say just which is the most popular, but it is safe to say that organdy is never a mistake in any summer outfit. The white openwork vestees are appropriate for any type of frock or suit in any color.

What could be more charming or appropriate for summer than the dainty vestee with collar attached. It is made of English openwork embroidery. With the collar, blouse effect and peplum there is no need a shirtwaist when this vest is worn and if the coat is kept on it makes a charming finish for the costume. Narrow black gros grain ribbon is used at the neck and belt and forms a pretty contrast. If the vestee is worn with colored linen suits or frocks it would be pretty to have the ribbon trimming match the frock or suit. The beauty about this neckwear is that it can be readily made at home, only care must be taken to fit the collar perfectly for there is nothing which detracts so much from an effect as an ill-fitting collar.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Gamble and Miss Lillian Taylor motored to Winona Lake, Ind.

REFORMS BEFORE ROBBERY

Jack Pickford Makes Hit in His New Picture

FULL OF MANY FINE SCENES

It's Story of the South—News of Theaters

BY ESTHER WAGNER

Jack Pickford screen producer has yet produced a picture as many splendid scenes as "A Double Dyeed Deceiver," playing at the Regent theater in which Jack takes the role of the "Llando" kid, late of Texas, and now of Buena Vista, South America. This "kid" as he is familiarly known had a bad reputation thruout Texas, now only because of his many shadowy dealings, but also because he was a sure fire killer as well.

However he makes it a point to kill only Mexicans, and not white men. After a shooting affair in a gambling house, he leaves for petoskey, unknown and finally lands in the little South American town of Buena Vista. It is here that he becomes involved in a highly exciting plot with the U. S. consul stationed there, to rob and deceive an aristocratic Castilian family, by posing as a son who ran away when 10 years of age.

He dons the cowboy costume and becomes the favored son of the family. And later, when he almost succumbs to the temptations to steal from his benefactors, the great transformation takes place. As usual there is a splendid little love story interwoven in the picture, and in the end everything ends happily.

The picture is a very beautiful and reflects in a realistic fashion the slumberous atmosphere of a typical South American town. The picture will be shown at the Regent until Wednesday.

"Before the White Man Came" is the title of a picture to be released in September. The cast is composed entirely of Indians. No white man appears in any of the scenes. The picture was filmed on the Crow reservation in Montana. One Indian in the picture is 110 years old. The picture shows how the Indians lived before the white man invaded their country. Capes and dresses studded with elk teeth, hairdresses of the tribe, are worn.

Another play by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero is to be made into a movie. This time it's "Sweet Lavender." Mary Miles Minter and Milton Sells will be co-stars.

Caring for Baby During Hot Spells

Be watchful of food and keep bowels open with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

THE young mother soon learns from experience that summer days are often days that try her patience. The heat makes baby peevish, restless and cross. Foods that in colder weather were easily digested, now seem to cause distress.

Whether the milk or the grain is at fault, see that the bowels move regularly. There is nothing that creates more discomfort in the summer than constipation. It heats the blood and causes nervousness, headache, fever, colds and a host of minor ills. In these little ailments it is always well to suspect constipation and give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can give a baby. It is mild and gentle in action, never grips and never gives.

Millions of people of all ages suffer from occasional or chronic constipation. Let them send name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 112 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill., for a free sample bottle of his wonderful Syrup Pepsin. 8 million bottles were bought during stores last year, the largest sale in the world.

Forty dollars for one drunk. That was the cost to Ernest Brown, 28, 959 Brice-ave., who was fined $25 in criminal court Monday morning after pleading guilty to drunkenness. The whiskey cost him $15, he testified. Henry Herman, 42, Coldwater, painter, arrested Saturday on a charge of drunkenness, failed to appear in criminal court Monday, forfeiting a bond of $15.

There seems to be quite an argument as to who was responsible for prohibition.

DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

a bit of stone, hard granite, which had scaled from the walls and white had a rough edge. With this working many a quiet hour, she at last cut in two the fire-brush. She lifted it in her hands, to feel the weight of it, before she thrust it under her bed to be hidden if danger should come. Then she found it was so light she felt no longer in a defensive mood.

Once Mad Ruth, lighting the lantern, had crossed a good match. When she had gone, Judith secured it hastily, hiding it as if it were gold. She knew that now and then Mad Ruth went down the cliffs and to the chasm across the chasm. All day she might meet at the dawning hour. When she heard her so, Judith rose swiftly and went to the heavy door. Always she found it locked; her shaking at it hardly budged the heavy timber. But that she could not see it, she studied it with her fingers until she had a picture of it in her mind. A picture of the lock and the door, and how the key would fit. Mad Ruth she knew, she knew she could never expect to break it down or push it aside. And above it and below, and on each side, were the solid walls of stone.

She no longer knew what day it was. She scarcely knew if it were day or night. But, setting herself something to do that she would not leave, she took down the door, and secured for herself another weapon. Another bit of stone which her groping fingers had found and hidden with her club; a jagged, wild rock half the size of a man's head. Some little scraps of bread and meat hoarded with her scanty meals, she hid in her blouse.

When Mad Ruth came, just stung by her, she got into the way of whispering to herself, "Nor kill her outright—just stun her—"

At last, seeing that she must work her own salvation with the crude weapons given her, Judith told herself that she could wait no longer. Another day and another and she would be weak from the confinement and lack of food and nervous from the lack of sleep and the walls closing in on her. And so it was that one day, when Mad Ruth was there, was a man to deal with on his side—well, she must shut her mind to that until she came to it.

Mad Ruth was gone again, and Judith stood by the thick door, her heart beating furiously while she waited for the door to open. She knew that Mad Ruth would come in patience that Ruth would never come back. Then after a long time she saw a light glimmering sound upon the rock ledge outside the sound of a quick step, and then, before she heard the whistling, swift voice which she had heard once and had never forgotten, she knew that this time the Mad Ruth was coming.

"O mad man, and there, there might be others," she stepped back to her bed and hid the two weapons and waited. She must make no mistake now.

The door was flung open. Outside it was dark, pitch-dark. But evidently the man entering had no fear of being seen. He threw down a bundle of dry fagots, and set one to burning, and then, in a low, uncaring, wavering gleams to where Judith stood, showed her plainly the twisted, ugly face of Quinlan; his red-rimmed eyes peering at her, filled with evil light.

A TRIP TO THE DENTIST'S

Went to the dentist's this morning and passed a miserable time. I've heard there. Yesterday I was there for two hours by the clock and all my own fault, too. I had to have a tooth pulled, and was supposed to have made an appointment with Dr. Willis, but, of course, forgot. Artists never can remember such petty details! So I had to just wait my turn.

It was fun for a while, for this was a place where only teeth are pulled. A tooth-pulling specialist, so to speak. Every one who walked in was due to lose one or more teeth, and their faces were not cheerful. I can tell you.

One poor little red-haired girl came over and sat by me to cheer herself up. I fancy, for she had come to the dentist's for the first time. I tried to face the very worst ordeals head up and fearless not to mention alone. It's part of my spartan-like belief.

I watched this girl sitting forlornly and scapning like the faces of everyone who emerged from the gas parlor with a strange look in her blue eyes. Finally I managed to catch her eyes and smiled. From that she came over to me, and we fell into conversation, and discovered that this was her first trip to the dentist's in any shape or manner, and that the reason she was alone was because she was an orphan and her only sister was at work.

By degrees we managed to start up quite a cheerful conversation for two people who had to be executed, and several times my unknown friend actually laughed at one of my remarks.

On they came—dozens of patients—in one door, hidden to view for a short space, and then out of the other door again. Some came out calmly, others with a gasp, and a few of these few there were who laughed after the ordeal, and these interested me the most.

I now know how it feels to lose consciousness. Very strange indeed is this feeling. Don't dislike it one bit.

Sat down in the fatal chair, calm as you please, until I felt the nurse press something against my mouth and another that I struggled with.

Doctor Willis and the nurse were firm with me, however, and went right on making me breathe deeply of the gas. I remember flapping my hands wildly and being told to clasp them, which I did not do; then I remember looking up in terror at the doctor, whose eyes were looking at mine, or rather into mine.

Next I looked out of the window and then big wheels began to whirl in front of me, turning faster and faster.

PEEK-A-BOO VESTEE FOR SUIT OR FROCK

BY ELOISE

The vestee which was one of the most important dress accessories during the spring before last is again coming to the fore to take a prominent place in all summer wardrobes. Many of the newer frocks are featuring vests and flits of organdy, lace or georgette. It is hard to say just which is the most popular, but it is safe to say that organdy is never a mistake this summer no matter what use is made of it. To be really different, however, which is what most women strive for, one should have collar and cuff sets of gingham, calico or openwork embroidery. The gingham and calico neckwear is very effective on white summer suits. The white openwork vestees are appropriate for any type of frock or suit in any color.

What could be more charming or appropriate for summer than this dainty vestee with collar attached. It is made of English openwork embroidery. With the collar, blouse effect and capstan there is no need a shirtwaist when this vest is worn and if the coat is kept on it makes a charming bluish for the costume. Narrow black and grain ribbon is used at the neck and belt and forms a pretty contrast. If the vestee is worn with colored linen suits or frocks it would be pretty to have the ribbon trimming match the frock or suit. The beauty about this neckwear is that it can be easily made at home, only care must be taken to fit the collar perfectly for there is nothing which detracts so much from an effect as an ill-fitting collar.

REFORMS BEFORE ROBBERY

Jack Pickford Makes Hit in His New Picture

FULL OF MANY FINE SCENES

It's Story of the South—News of Theaters

BY ESTHER WAGNER

Jack Pickford screen production yet produced possesses as many splendid scenes, as "A Double Dyed Deceiver" playing at the Regent theater in which Jack takes the role of the "Lando" kid, late of Texas, and now of Buennas Tierras, South America. This "kid" as he is familiarly known had a bad reputation thruout Texas, now only because of his many shadowy dealings, but also because he was a sure fire killer as well.

However he makes it a point to kill only Mexicans, and not white men. After a shooting affair in a gambling house, he leaves for parts unknown and finally lands in the little South American town of Buennas Tierras. It is here that he becomes involved in a highly exciting plot with the U. S. consul stationed there, to rob and deceive an aristocratic Castilian family, by posing as their son who ran away when 10 years of age.

He dons his cowboy costume and becomes the favored son of the family. And later, when he almost succumbs to the temptations to steal from his benefactors, the great transformation takes place. As usual there is a splendid little love story interwoven in the picture, and in the end everything ends happily.

The picturesque and colorful settings are very beautiful and reflect in a realistic fashion the slumberous atmosphere of a typical South American town. The picture will be shown at the Regent until Wednesday.

"Before the White Man Came" is the title of a picture to be released in September. The cast is composed entirely of Indians. No white man appears in any of the scenes. The picture was filmed on the Crow reservation in Montana. One Indian in the picture is 110 years old. The picture shows how the Indians lived before the white man invaded their country. Capes and dresses studded with elk teeth, heirlooms of the tribe, are worn.

Another play by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero is to be made into a movie. This time it is "Sweet Lavender." Mary Miles Minter and Milton Sells will be co stars.

Caring for Baby During Hot Spells

Be watchful of food and keep bowels open with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

THE young mother soon learns from experience that summer days are often days that try her patience. The heat makes baby peevish, restless and cross. Foods that in colder weather were easily digested, now seem to cause distress.

Whether the milk or the gruel is at fault, see that the bowels move regularly. There is nothing that creates greater discomfort in the summer than constipation. It heats the blood and causes rashes, headaches, fever, colds and a host of minor ills. In these little ailments it is always well to suspect constipation and give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, and the most ideal medicine you can give a baby. It is mild and gentle in action, never gripes and tastes good.

FREE Millions of people of all ages suffer from occasional or chronic constipation. Let them send name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 512 Washington Street, Monicello, Ill., for a free sample bottle of his wonderful Syrup Pepsin. 8 million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale in the world.

Mothers have had remarkable success with Syrup Pepsin. Mrs. C. M. Newton of 250 E. Third St., Dayton, Ohio, has a son who was constipated from birth. She tried many medicines and gave warm water injections every evening for weeks without benefit. Then she bought a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at a drug store, and it proved effective at once. The boy is now seven, and has not been constipated since. Wherever there is a baby these hot days there should be a bottle of Syrup Pepsin.

$40 FOR ONE DRUNK
Forty dollars for one drunk. That was the cost to Ernest Brown, 28, 559 Brice-ave, who was fined $25 in criminal court Monday morning after pleading guilty to drunkenness. The whiskey cost him $15, he testified. Henry Herman, 42, Coldwater, painter, arrested Saturday on a charge of drunkenness, failed to appear in criminal court Monday, forfeiting a bond of $15.

There seems to be quite an argument as to who was responsible for prohibition.

MUTT AND JEFF—LOOKS LIKE A WILD TWO WEEKS ARE IN STORE FOR MUTT.

By BUD FISHER

Short Shavings

At an amateur performance an artist gave imitations of several popular actors, one of whom happened to be present.

Afterward the ambitious amateur sought an introduction to the "star," and asked hopefully, "Did you see my imitation of you?"

"I did," said the great man, promptly.

"Then, sir," persisted the aspiring youth, "may I ask you to give me your opinion of my art as shown in that impersonation?"

"Well my boy," the great man said, "one of us is rotten!"

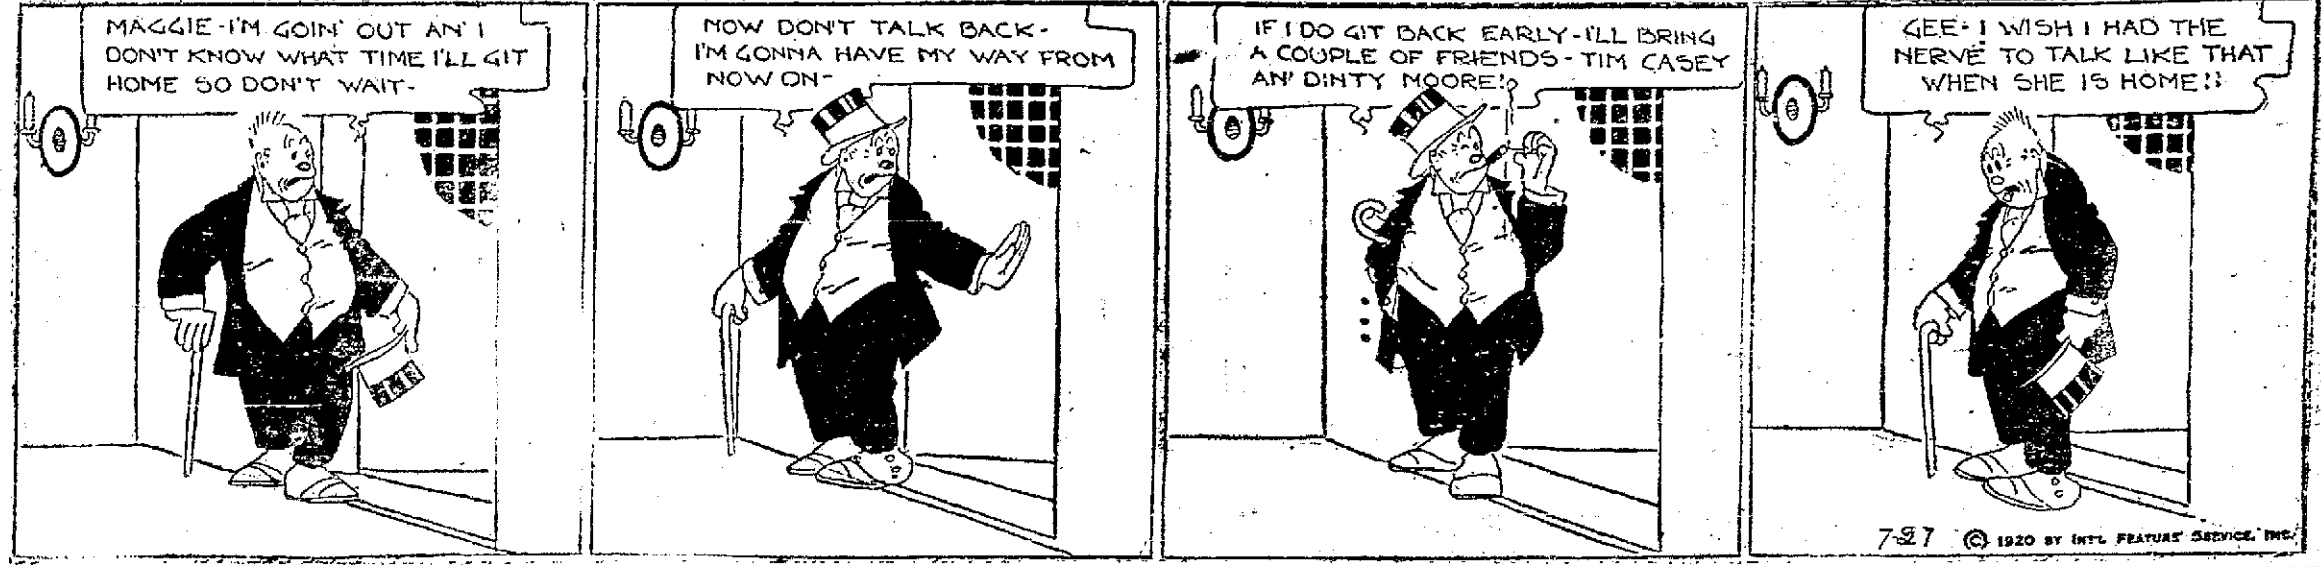

One by one the scholars had ploughed their way through their share of the reading lesson until it came to little Frankie's turn. He got on pretty well until he stumbled on the word "helium."

The teacher kindly helped him with the pronunciation of the word, and asked:

"And do you know the meaning of the word?"

BRINGING UP FATHER—

By McMANUS

Frankie shook his curly head.

"It means something that is handed down from father to son—in other words, a relic."

"Oh!" exclaimed Frankie, while a pleased smile crossed his face.

"That's the funniest name I ever heard for a pair of trousers!"

"What brought you here, my poor son?" inquired the prison visitor.

"No, lady, I was always the bridegroom."

Greensburg Banker Makes Interesting Statement

Tells How Two Years of Trouble Was Relieved When Nerv-Worth Overcame His Nervous and Stomach Ills.

"For 2 years, I had stomach trouble," said Nicholas Long of the Merchants Trust Co., Greensburg, Pa. "As a result of this stomach trouble, I was nervous and could not sleep well, and I was very weak and practically in a down and out condition. I doctored and tried all the remedies I could find in an effort to get relief, but it was without avail until I purchased a bottle of Nerv-Worth. Then my stomach trouble disappeared. I eat well, and I digest my food. I am sleeping fine. I certainly recommend Nerv-Worth to others." You will find, as this gentleman found, that Nerv-Worth gives relief when others fail because it scientifically treats both stomach and nervous derangements. It has been found that where stomach ills exist, nervous troubles are usually present. Nerv-Worth, by acting on both the nerves and stomach, quickly gives the desired result, and aids toward restoring health, stopping the formation of gas, sweetening the stomach, aiding assimilation, stopping fermentation, and aiding the whole digestive tract. It also aids nerve force, gives sound restful sleep, relieves dizziness, and other nervous afflictions, and thus by this combined action, aids in restoring health and vigor to the sufferer. Give it a trial, and be convinced. If your first trial bottle does not benefit you, your money will be refunded. Think What These Tubes Have Done

Every superb performance to the credit of Goodyear Cord Tires is no less an indorsement of Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

For wherever Goodyear Cords have triumphed—on speedways, on motor trucks, in endurance tests or on airplanes—there have been Goodyear Tubes inside them.

Examine a Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tube; note its thick, powerful and vigorous body—what other tube has a construction so scientifically leakless?

What other tube embodies in like degree the efficient layer-upon-layer principle of making, or the integral valve-patch feature in similar perfection?

Go to your Goodyear Service Station Dealer and ask for these tubes by name—they are relatively as superior to ordinary tubes as Goodyear Cord Tires are superior to ordinary tires.

Their initial cost is no more than the price you are asked for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available?
